MESSAGE FROM THE FOUNDER

Dear graduands, distinguished guests, families, honoured staff and members of the Albukhary International University (AIU) community,

With heartfelt pride and gratitude, we gather to celebrate the 6th Convocation Ceremony of AIU, which is a moment that holds special meaning for me personally. What we witness today, another cohort of capable, principled and socially conscious young leaders stepping out into the world, is the fulfilment of a dream on which the university was founded. AIU was once just an aspiration: to build an institution that would change lives through education, anchor itself in compassion, and serve humanity with sincerity. Seeing our sixth graduating batch on this stage is a powerful reminder that those early hopes have taken root and flourished.

From the start, AIU was never meant to be an ordinary university. It was envisioned as a catalyst for change, grounded in our 5A Core Values of Aqidah, Akhlaq, Adab, Amanah, and Amalan, values that shape character, inspire service, and guide ethical decisions. Today's world is more complex, interconnected and unpredictable than ever, but these values remain timeless and serve as a compass as you navigate your journey.

One of the guiding principles closest to my heart is the 8-Hour Rule, a reminder that true success is built on balance. Allocate your day wisely: eight hours for the day's education, eight hours for the night's sleep, and eight hours for helping those in need. This balance ensures clarity, resilience and sustained growth; not just for your own benefit, but for the good of your families, communities and the wider world.

As you prepare to embark on your next chapter, I urge you to be smart, strategic and intentional in your journey. Know your strengths and be honest about your weaknesses. Learn how to seize opportunities, especially those that align with your passions and values. Build your personal brand with integrity, cultivate meaningful networks, strengthen your digital and analytical literacy, and equip yourself with the mindset needed to thrive in a future defined by rapid change and disruption.

AIU's niche in Social Business, guided by the visionary concept of the 3ZERO: Zero Net Carbon Emissions, Zero Wealth concentration for ending poverty, and Zero Unemployment by unleashing entrepreneurship in all, is more relevant than ever. The global landscape demands leaders who think beyond profit, who embrace sustainability, and who innovate for social impact. These ideas are not just academic theories; they are powerful tools to help you find your place in a world that needs empathy driven entrepreneurship, circular economy thinking, and responsible leadership. Carry these principles with you and let them guide your decisions as you navigate the challenges ahead.

As we celebrate today, our hearts remain with our brothers and sisters around the world who are suffering, displaced or living with injustice and conflict. We pray for their safety, their dignity, and their peace. I hope that the youth of today, including every one of you, will grow into leaders who embody compassion, courage and unity, as well as standing firmly against cruelty in all its forms. The future depends on leaders who are principled, humane and committed to uplifting others.

Graduands, as you step forward into new opportunities, remember that success is most meaningful when it is shared. Use your education to benefit humanity and give back to your communities. Strive for excellence with humility. Let your journey be one of continuous learning, innovation and service.

Congratulations, Class of 2025. May you carry the AIU spirit with honour, and may your actions bring light, hope and meaningful change wherever you go.

My prayers and best wishes are always with you.

Thank you.

Syed Mokhtar Albukhary

Founder, Albukhary International University

MESSAGE FROM THE PRO-CHANCELLOR

Assalamualaikum warahmatullahi wabarakatuh.

Dear graduands and their proud families, honoured guests, and the entire Albukhary International University (AIU) community.

Every time I return to AIU, I am filled with a profound sense of peace and purpose. There is something special about this campus, something that reminds me why places like this matter. AIU is more than just a university; it is a home where hope is restored, where opportunity is created, and where young people are given the space to discover who they truly are.

When I look at our young graduands today, I am reminded of my own journey as a young man full of potential, yes, but also facing obstacles that felt overwhelming at times. I know what it means to struggle, to doubt yourself, and to feel uncertain about the road ahead. But I also know what it means to push through, to trust your passions, and to carve out your own path even when others cannot see your vision. That is why seeing you here today fills me with admiration and respect.

Throughout my career, I have had the privilege of meeting successful people from all over the world athletes, leaders, entrepreneurs, scholars each with their own story, their own hardships, their own beginnings. But there is one quality they all share, no matter where they come from; discipline.

Discipline to keep going.

Discipline to improve.

Discipline to stay true to their values.

Alongside discipline, there is something just as important faith. Faith that your efforts will bear fruit. Faith that your struggles have meaning. Faith that you are guided by a higher power, toward a purpose greater than yourself. These two things, discipline and faith, are the pillars that will carry you through the brightest days and the darkest moments.

But success is never achieved alone. In every sport I have played, every team I have been part of, I learned that you must surround yourself with people who lift you up. You have to communicate, build trust, and find those teammates whether in your career, your community, or your personal life who will support you, challenge you, and walk beside you. Strong connections are not just beneficial; they are essential. They will shape who you become and help you uplift others in return.

Graduands of 2025, as you step into the next chapter of your lives, take with you the essence of AIU the unity, the brotherhood, the respect that defines this community. Remember that you come from a place that believes in giving second chances, in empowering the underserved, and in nurturing leaders who serve with heart and humility.

Use your gifts to benefit others. Lead with compassion. Stand firm in your principles. Never forget that the world needs people who are grounded, disciplined, faithful, and connected.

I have full confidence that each of you will carry forward the mission of this university with honour and purpose.

Congratulations, and may your future be filled with strength, clarity, and blessings.

Thank you.

Sonny Bill Williams

Pro-Chancellor, Albukhary International University

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Distinguished guests, esteemed faculty members, proud families and, most importantly, our remarkable graduands,

On behalf of the Board of Governors of Albukhary International University (AIU), it is my distinct honour to congratulate the Class of 2025 on reaching this significant milestone. Today, you stand at the threshold of a world that is dynamic, demanding and filled with both uncertainty and opportunity. As you prepare to take your next steps, we celebrate not only your academic achievements but also your resilience, growth and determination.

In an era defined by rapid technological shifts, changing labour markets, and evolving global priorities, employability is no longer about possessing a single qualification. Instead, it is about understanding the market, recognising where your strengths meet emerging needs, and finding your niche in an ever-transforming landscape. You must learn continuously, adapt fearlessly, and seek opportunities beyond familiar pathways. The world rewards those who anticipate trends, innovate with courage, and remain open to new possibilities.

AIU's aim to redefine talent for an uncertain future is built precisely on this reality. Through our commitment to nurturing entrepreneurial and well-balanced graduates, we aim to equip you not only with academic knowledge but with the mindset and character to thrive in complexity. We believe strongly in graduates who can create value, solve real problems, and lead with purpose and integrity.

Our university is firmly positioned to be more than a leading provider of academic excellence; it also empowers graduates to serve humanity with unwavering dedication, resilience and moral clarity. The Albukhary Foundation and the Management of the university have full confidence that you, our graduands, will carry AIU's name to greater heights. You represent the next chapter of this institution: a generation capable of making AIU a symbol of hope, a beacon of change, and a key player in the global movement toward a 3ZERO world, through the principles of Social Business.

Located at the heart of ASEAN, AIU is strategically situated to engage with one of the most vibrant and fastest-growing regions in the world. As ASEAN continues opening its doors to the free movement of skilled talent, AIU is uniquely positioned to form strong international partnerships, attract diverse global learners, and expand its influence across borders. This presents an extraordinary opportunity for the university, and for you to contribute meaningfully to regional and global development.

Throughout your journey here, you have been guided by the 5A Core Values: Aqidah, which anchors you in faith; Akhlaq, which shapes your moral character; Adab, which cultivates respect and humility; Amanah, which instills trustworthiness and responsibility; and Amalan, which ensures that your values are reflected in meaningful action. These values are not merely ideals to admire, they are principles to live by. They represent the foundation upon which your futures will be built, especially as you navigate the complexities and pressures of the modern world.

As you move forward, I urge you to embrace change with courage, pursue excellence with humility, and lead with compassion. Success is not defined by titles or material gain, but by your ability to create positive impact wherever you go. The future is not predetermined, it is shaped by individuals like you, who dare to innovate, who persevere in uncertainty, and who remain steadfast in their values.

To the Class of 2025, we believe in you. We trust you. And we look forward to witnessing the remarkable contributions you will make in the years ahead.

Congratulations once again. May your path be filled with purpose, wisdom and meaningful achievement.

Thank you.

Syed Mohamad Albukhary

Chairman, Board of Governors, Albukhary International University

MESSAGE FROM THE VICE-CHANCELLOR AND PRESIDENT

Assalamualaikum warahmatullahi wabarakatuh.

Salam Sejahtera, and warm greetings to all members of the Albukhary International University (AIU) community,

Convocation is more than a celebration of academic achievement. It is a powerful and emotional reminder of why we exist as a university, to inspire hope, nurture lifelong purpose, and transform lives through meaningful knowledge and compassionate action.

To all our graduands: heartfelt congratulations on this deeply meaningful milestone. Your journey at AIU may have begun with uncertainty, but you embraced the challenges, persevered with courage, and emerged stronger, wiser, and ready to serve both locally and globally. We are deeply proud of your growth.

At AIU, we believe that education must never be reduced to mere credentials. It is not just about personal advancement, but about building a more just, sustainable, and inclusive world. Our commitment to value-based education is shaped by our 5A Core Values: Aqidah (faith), Akhlaq (character), Adab (conduct), Amanah (trust), and Amalan (action). These values are embedded into everything we do. They form the DNA of our university, guiding how we teach, how we learn, and how we serve society.

Equally central to our mission are the 3ZERO (Zero Net Carbon Emissions, Zero Wealth concentration for ending poverty, and Zero Unemployment by unleashing entrepreneurship in all). These are not simply institutional goals or slogans they reflect our unwavering dedication to social justice, environmental stewardship, and economic empowerment. You are graduating from an institution that believes higher education must act as a force for good across generations.

As a university with students from over 60 countries, AIU is proud to embody the spirit of unity in diversity. Here, differences in culture, language, belief, and background are not barriers but bridges, offering rich opportunities to learn empathy, build mutual respect, and develop global responsibility through shared experiences.

We are also mindful that you are stepping into a world shaped by rapid technological change, driven by artificial intelligence (AI) and digital disruption. The age of AI presents not only challenges but also immense potential for innovation and human progress. More than ever, the world needs thoughtful, ethical, and compassionate leaders. That is who we have prepared you to become.

Through your daily practice of the 8-Hour Rule; balancing learning, resting, and serving others you have experienced a holistic model of education rooted in purpose, integrity, and wellbeing. This is the AIU way, and we hope it continues to guide you long after you leave these halls.

As you move forward, know that you carry with you not just a qualification, but a higher calling. We hope you will lead with humility, think deeply, and act meaningfully wherever life takes you, and in whatever field you serve.

Congratulations once again.

Wassalamualaikum warahmatullahi wabarakatuh.

LOGO

In the University's logo, the Square Kufic reads "Jami'ah Albukhary al-Duwaliyyah" (Albukhary International University). The Square Kufic (known as Kufi Murabba' or Kufi Banna'l - masonry script) is characterised by its unique epigraphic convention; by its angularity, squareness, and strict organising principles by positive and negative space.

ALBUKHARY INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY

Al-Duwaliyyah (International) in turquoise: represents healing properties that affect the mind and body; believed to boost energy, serenity, wholeness and creativity.

"Albukhary" in green: the colour of life, nature and energy; to create balance as well as promote change and growth.

"Jami'ah (University)" in blue: produces a calming effect, associated with tranquility and calmness; beneficial to mind and body.

The Square Kufic, also used in the logo of the Islamic Arts Museum Malaysia (IAMM) was selected as the new logo of the Albukhary International University (AIU) because the aforementioned institutions are the symbolic entities founded and supported by the Albukhary Foundation. The IAMM seeks to nurture a deeper appreciation for the influence of Islamic civilisation throughout the globe, while the AIU was founded with the aim of inclusion in the field of higher education. In totality, the colours of the new AIU logo captures the essence of the university's motto, which is "Inspiring minds".

6th CONVOCATION CEREMONY

THE MACE

It is a gold sceptre, or mace of North Indian origin, possibly from Rajasthan, made in the first half of the 19th century with carved floral motifs in three sections with a rosewood core. The pommel is inlaid with a large emerald surrounded by rubies and diamonds forming a floral design. Surrounding the flower is a register of carved birds with inlaid ruby eyes, interrupted by floral sprays. The lip of the pommel is decorated with square-cut diamonds.

The mace first made its present-time appearance at Albukhary International University (AIU) Convocation Hall on March 26, 2022, during the inaugural convocation ceremony of the university. Historically recognized as a type of ceremonial device, it was carried by the entourage of the ruler of its time. Today, it is carried by its designated bearer and placed at the center of the convocation hall during the ceremony as an emblem of lasting prestige and authority, which represents the important role that the past will always play in the present time, across centuries, cultures, and continents.

Its emblematic uniqueness stands out as it is a significant object from the annals of history that has witnessed much of time and civilisations passing by. Thus, it becomes the perfect symbolism of the AIU's 5A Core Values which are universal and timeless, unifying people and communities in shared humanity while acknowledging the beauty in its diversity.

Recipient of

VICE-CHANCELLOR AWARD

ABDULLAH IQBAL MA'ARIF LUBIS

BACHELOR OF POLITICS AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS (HONOURS)

Iqbal spent most of his life in a village in Mandailing Natal Regency, North Sumatera, Indonesia as the fifth of six children. Due to financial challenges, some of his siblings had to live with their aunties so they could attend school, while the rest stayed with their parents, who could only support their education up to senior high school. Growing up in this situation pushed him to give his best; he consistently ranked first in school, hoping it would help him earn future scholarships.

He eventually became the first and only student from his school to study abroad something that once seemed impossible for someone with limited financial means. Yet he always believed that “dreams never recognize your background.” He is deeply grateful to be an Albukhary International University (AIU) student. The diversity at AIU has shown him that everyone carries hopes not only for themselves, but also for their families and communities. AIU’s focus on Social Business has strengthened his belief that one of the most meaningful purposes in life is to give back to the society from which we benefit, reflecting the Islamic principle of khairunnas that the best people are those who bring the most benefit to others.

In 2023, he won 2nd place in a socioeconomic project called “Hawker Rich-able” which aimed to support local hawkers by improving their marketing strategies. He is currently initiating “Progresif Naposo,” a project that empowers youth in rural North Sumatera through English programmes and child-marriage advocacy issues that remain crucial in communities where traditional views are still strong.

Recipient of VICE-CHANCELLOR AWARD

SUHAILA BINTI TAJIP

BACHELOR OF ECONOMICS (HONOURS)

After losing her father, Suhaila lived with her mother and sister in Sabah. Life was never easy, but her mother did her best to send them to school. As the youngest in her family, she carries the hope of uplifting their circumstances and honouring her mother's sacrifices. Her life changed the day she received a full scholarship from the Albukhary Foundation and an admission offer from Albukhary International University (AIU), becoming the first in her family to attend university. AIU became the place where her dreams found direction and her heart found purpose.

She embraced leadership and service, spending two years in the Al-Quran and Islamic Club as the Exco of Da'wah and later as Secretary. She also served as Vice President of the Economics Students Association, Exco of Religious Affairs in the Malaysian Student Association at AIU, and as a Library Associate for two semesters. Despite her many responsibilities, she consistently made the Dean's List every semester.

She led a digital training program for Kedah SMEs in collaboration with MADA, empowering business owners with practical skills in content creation. In 2025, she also led a research project on fintech and economic growth, which won the Gold Award at the Seminar of Contemporary Issues in Economics and Finance. AIU helped her grow into the person she always wanted to become.

She expressed heartfelt gratitude to the founder, Tan Sri Syed Mokhtar Albukhary, his family, and the university for funding her studies and giving her this opportunity. Her studies in Economics taught her that the greatest investment is in human capital, and AIU exemplifies this by nurturing future leaders from all over the world.

Recipient of VICE-CHANCELLOR AWARD

PUAN NAZHIRA MAHARANI

BACHELOR OF SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT (HONOURS)

Puan's journey began far from perfection. Once ranked 18th out of 25 students in senior high school and being the only child in her family, she grew up learning to persevere, stay grounded, and give her best in every opportunity entrusted to her. Her time at Albukhary International University (AIU) strengthened her commitment to community impact. As a volunteer teacher at Sanggar Bimbingan Permai Penang, an education center for undocumented Indonesian children, she dedicated herself to serving vulnerable communities. This experience later inspired her research, which earned the Best Paper Award at the International Community Service Conference by the Peneleh Research Institute in December 2023.

Puan consistently embodied AIU's 5A Core Values throughout her leadership journey. Amanah guided her during her role as Vice Chief Executive for the first AIU Model ASEAN Meeting and as Indonesia's representative at the ASEAN Youth Summit, where integrity and responsibility shaped her decisions. Adab influenced her humility in cultural leadership, reflected in her contributions as Head of Cultural Diplomacy and Tourism at Overseas Indonesian Students' Association Alliance and as Vice Coordinator and Ratoh Jaroe Mentor at Unit Kegiatan Mahasiswa (UKM), Persatuan Pelajar Indonesia (PPI), AIU.

The greatest lesson she carries is the importance of trusting Allah's plan, believing that He always knows what is best, along with her motto "Dream high, because our only limit is our mind". Proud to be part of AIU, Puan treasures the friendships she built with students from more than 50 nationalities an experience that defined her university journey.

Recipient of VICE-CHANCELLOR AWARD

THAIN LAR MIN MIN

BACHELOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (HONOURS) (MARKETING)

Thain Lar Min Min's journey began in a home shaped by strong women who carried both grief and responsibility with quiet strength. After losing her father in Grade 1, she was guided by her mother, two aunts, and her elder sister. Their sacrifices taught her that resilience is not loud; it is steady, patient, and full of hope. Even when she lost her sense of direction during the pandemic, they continued to believe in the future she could not yet see. With the guidance of Sayar U Myint Thein, she applied for the Albukhary International University (AIU) scholarship, and AIU became the place where she found clarity, purpose, and a future she thought she had lost.

At AIU, she learned that education is a trust, not just an achievement. Her involvement in community teaching, student associations, academic projects, and Social Business initiatives helped her understand the university's mission to uplift others through knowledge. The 5A Core Values guided her choices: respect in teamwork, compassion in serving underserved Rohingya children, integrity in academic work, and responsibility in every leadership role.

Every milestone reminded her that hard work can transform a life. Looking ahead, she hopes to continue serving communities with sincerity, using her education in Marketing to contribute meaningfully to society. She remains forever grateful to her family, her mentors, and AIU for giving her the opportunity to rebuild her future.

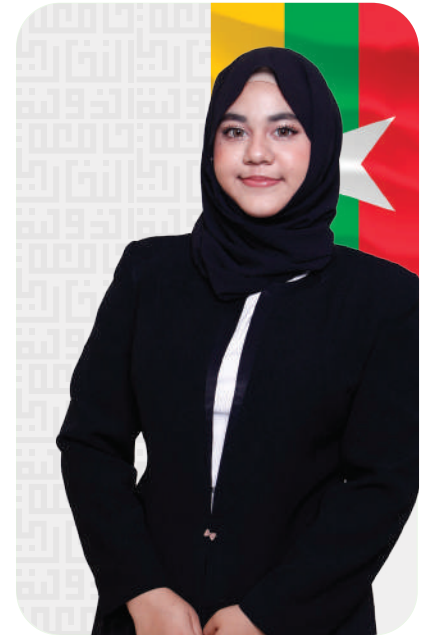

Recipient of VICE-CHANCELLOR AWARD

THIRI SU MYAT NAING

BACHELOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (HONOURS)

Many children in conflict-affected areas of Myanmar live in fear every day. Their schools are destroyed, their homes bombed, and their families displaced. Some have lost parents or siblings, growing up believing that education and dreams are beyond their reach. Witnessing these struggles inspired Thiri Su Myat Naing to realize that even one small action could bring hope to a life that seemed forgotten. Guided by her mother's words "Education gives hope and opens doors" she turned her own education into meaningful action.

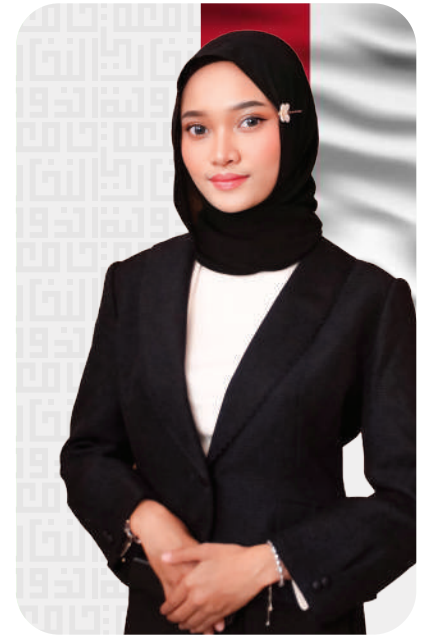

At Albukhary International University (AIU), she was given the privilege to study and to find a voice she never thought she could have. She embraced this Amanah as a responsibility and a way to create impact beyond herself. Through volunteering with underserved families and leading community initiatives throughout her AIU journey, she learned that knowledge, when shared with care and intention, can transform lives.

These experiences reminded her that every opportunity she received is a door she must use to create pathways for others who share the same dreams. Receiving the Vice-Chancellor's Award is an incredible honour for Thiri Su Myat Naing, yet she sees it not as recognition of herself, but as a reminder of the responsibility she carries. She aspires to continue using what she has learned to empower others, bridge gaps, and create hope, always mindful that true achievement is measured by the positive difference left in the lives of others.

Recipient of VICE-CHANCELLOR AWARD FAZHALIANI SHARIFFATUL MUNA

BACHELOR OF MEDIA AND COMMUNICATION (HONOURS)

Growing up in a small town known for producing cigarettes in Central Java, Indonesia, Fazhaliani was raised in a community where higher education was often seen as unnecessary. Yet, consistently ranking at the top of her class and earning full merit scholarships, she discovered that education could break cycles of limitation. In 2021, together with her team, she founded a literacy community providing learning resources for street children in Indonesia.

Her journey continued in Malaysia, where she pursued her degree fully sponsored by the Albukhary Foundation and Badan Amil Zakat Nasional (BAZNAS) Indonesia. There, she encountered similar struggles faced by immigrant children many denied access to public schools and vulnerable to exploitative labor. Together with her colleagues, she served as a volunteer teacher, offering non-formal education to underserved communities in Penang.

Academically, Fazhaliani has maintained a record as a Dean's List recipient for every semester while actively contributing to Indonesian student organisations at regional and international levels. Her dedication to civic engagement earned her a prestigious scholarship from the United States of America for the YSEALI Academic Fellowship Program, where she studied social movements at the University of Nebraska at Omaha and received honorary citizenship for her social contributions.

Beyond academia, she works as a correspondent journalist for major Indonesian television outlets, bridging media and grassroots activism to amplify marginalised voices. Guided by the belief that every child has a right to education, she aspires to contribute meaningfully and proudly carries AIU's mission forward wherever her journey takes her.

Recipient of VICE-CHANCELLOR AWARD ARVIENA ANDALAS GANTUSURI

BACHELOR OF ELEMENTARY EDUCATION (HONOURS)

Arvienda Andalas Gantusuri's journey in education began long before she entered Albukhary International University (AIU). Growing up in a humble environment, she taught a group of neighbourhood children who came to her home for tutoring. A defining moment came when a young boy, once unable to express himself, finally read his first full sentence to her. That experience alone shaped her purpose as an educator and affirmed her belief in the transformative power of education. Grounded in the Minangkabau philosophy "Alam Takambang Jadi Guru," Arvienda believes that every experience in life is the greatest teacher.

Guided by this belief, she navigated her journey at AIU with depth and intention. She carried Akhlaq through the compassion she showed the community, demonstrated Amanah through her sincerity and discipline in every responsibility, and embodied Amalan through her active involvement in multiple educational and leadership initiatives.

Her teaching at SB Ami Arrahmah and her internships inspired her research on timid learners' participation, while her exploration of gamified learning reflects her commitment to building inclusive and engaging classrooms. She further showcased leadership through SRIDE Teacher Activities, a state-level STEM program, SEHS Community Engagement, and her active roles in Persatuan Pelajar Indonesia (PPI) AIU and Overseas Indonesian Students' Association Alliance, where she served as head of a sub-division.

With a passion for child development and inclusivity, Arvienda aims to pursue further studies and hopes to build community-based programmes that uplift children and empower underserved families. Because of her strong belief and resilience, Arvienda was invited as a speaker by Youth Aktual, where she encouraged young women to pursue education and embrace their potential especially those from underprivileged backgrounds, like her younger self, who were once searching for direction.

Recipient of VICE-CHANCELLOR AWARD NURUL MASHITOH BINTI MAHMUD

BACHELOR IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (HONOURS)

From the quiet towns of Baling and Alor Setar to the halls of Albukahry International University (AIU), Nurul Mashitoh binti Mahmud has carried with her a steadfast purpose shaped by her upbringing and values. Born in Baling, Kedah, and raised in Alor Setar, she is the sixth of seven siblings and the daughter of a dedicated lemongrass farmer whose hard work shaped her resilience. Beginning her higher education journey with a 3.58 STPM, she advanced to AIU to study Bachelor in Early Childhood Education (Honours) (BECE), where her dedication shone through as she graduated with a CGPA of 3.82 and consistently made the Dean's List.

Throughout her studies, Mashitoh embodied AIU's 5A Core Values and practiced the 8-Hour Rule, which became the foundation of her discipline, balance, and achievements. Her journey in BECE was driven by a clear mission: to uplift early childhood education in rural areas. Guided by the belief that every child deserves equal opportunities, she created an edible kinetic sand using simple kitchen ingredients an innovation inspired by the lack of learning materials in villages. This project led her team to win the Champion title at Sustainability & Society Pitching Day and secure a place as Hult Prize University Finalists.

Her passion for child development extended beyond coursework. She gained hands-on experience by organising and performing in BECE events such as Children Appreciation Day, Children Exhibition Day, and Children Artful Summit. Her commitment to inclusive education deepened further through volunteering at National Autism Society of Malaysia (NASOM) and Sekolah Kebangsaan Batu 8 Sik, where she designed lessons that brought joy, engagement, and inclusion to children.

Mashitoh expresses her deepest appreciation to School of Education and Human Sciences (SEHS) lecturers generally and BECE lecturers especially for their guidance, to her parents and family for their endless support, and to all AIU staff directly and indirectly involved for making her journey meaningful. To her, AIU has truly been a home

Her journey is grounded in a belief she carries with conviction: "Education changes lives, and I am determined to be part of that change."

MD AMIN ULLAH SHEIKH

BACHELOR IN COMPUTER SCIENCE (HONOURS)

Growing up in a rural, low-income family with limited opportunities, Md Amin Ullah Sheikh found purpose and direction through the scholarship offered by Albukhary International University (AIU). The opportunity to study at AIU inspired him to pursue education with sincerity and to give back to the communities he came from. During his time at AIU, he actively contributed to social-impact initiatives by conducting freelancing and career workshops through the 3ZERO Club and supporting students in accessing affordable laptops through Social Business projects.

Guided by AIU's 5A Core Values, he embodied Aqidah through sincere intention, gratitude, patience, and reliance on Allah throughout his journey. Akhlaq shaped his humility, honesty, and respect towards lecturers, peers, and juniors, while Adab was reflected in his manners, punctuality, and professionalism as he represented the university. RAGHAD RAMI MUQBEL AHMED

Coming from Aden, Yemen, where war severely affected the education system, Raghad faced an uncertain future despite graduating as her school's valedictorian. Unable to return home or afford further studies, she feared her life would become a "perfect graveyard of buried hopes," as L. M. Montgomery wrote in Anne of Green Gables. Everything changed when she received a scholarship at Albukhary International University, a turning point that restored possibility and surrounded her with friendships that shaped her growth.

She carried with her the quote, "The impossible cannot have happened, therefore the impossible must be possible in spite of appearances," especially when pursuing her passion for using Artificial Intelligence (AI) to address medical challenges an ambition deeply personal, as Yemen's healthcare system continues to struggle under conflict.

Her project, Advanced Ejection Fraction Prediction in Pediatric Echocardiograms Using Deep Learning, supports early diagnosis for children with cardiac complications, particularly in low-resource settings. Through her knowledge and sometimes her brush, her achievements and values reflect her mission of serving humanity. Raghad remains committed to advancing medical AI to alleviate suffering in Yemen and around world, grateful for the opportunity that transformed her life and inspired hope.
